They have also insured the local dealers, the Aero Auto Co., Inc., that should the market prices of materials and labor allow a lowering of prices between this date and May 1, 1920, every purchaser of a Scripps Booth car, who buys within this period will be refunded the amount of the decrease in the price of the car.

The three other persons injured in the accident, Mrs. Bert L. Snyded, of Lewinsville, Va., and her two sons, Neal Snyder and Wayne Snyder, are doing well, according to the physicians. Neal, the older boy, suffered a fractured hip. The car was driven by Bert L. Synder, and the party was returning from church services.

The actual value of the articles stolen is about $50.

Several jackets and other articles subsequently were found bundled together thrown on the roadside. Mr. Mervine is of the opinion that the robbery was committed by tramps and that there were three in the party, three pairs of trousers being taken.

1,399 WOMEN HERE QUALIFY TO VOTE

Total of 2,851 Men Have Paid Poll Tax

CITY HAS 4,250 VOTERS

Women Control Fifty Per Cent of Vote—1227 Whites and 172 Colored Pay Tax.

A total of 1399 women had paid their capitation taxes and most of them had registered when the offices of the city officials and registrars were closed at 5.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon which marked the end of the work.

Of the foregoing 1227 are white and 172 are colored. There are on the books a total of 2851 men. In round figures the women control fifty per cent of the vote.

Practically all of the men with the exception of 76 registered last May and the seventy-six men who registered during the past week are men who have just attained their majority.

In the coming Presidential election next month this city will have a total of exactly 4250 qualified voters on the books.

Commissioner of Revenue C. H. Callahan and City Treasurer Thomas W. Robinson say they never before had such a steady stream of voters as they have encountered during the past week, it averaging more than 200 per day.

Notwithstanding the fact that there was ample notice given about registration, there were many women who forgot to register and today are lamenting the fact that they are not qualified to vote.

There is considerable speculation regarding the new votes. Politicians, however, say that the vote of the women simply means an increased democratic majority.

Many of the women expressed themselves as being opposed to suffrage, but said that as it here they desire to exercise the previlege of voting. Some stated that they have no desire to vote in national affairs but simply want a vote in things effecting the city. Others said they only desired to qualify but did not propose to vote. The outcome of the new vote awaits to be seen at the polls in November and the politicians then can give something more definite as to conditions.

More than 1,000 women in Arlington county paid their capitation taxes and are qualified to vote.

"OH, OH, CINDY!"

There are no moments of rest in "Oh, Oh, Cindy!" the production which is to be staged by local amateurs Wednesday night at the Opera House under the sponsorship of The Old Dominion Boat Club. An excellently staged, swiftly moving, smooth running performance of one of the best and smartest of the season's musical shows, is certain to be presented by the local people.

The play is a medley of color, music and artistry. One starts at a rehearsal of a modern show on a metropolitan stage and in the twinkling of an eye is whisked to Fairyland, to the South Sea Islands and back again to Fairyland. The magic of a thousand sorceners bring the mystery of the Orient, with its melody, its beauty its mysticism, to the local stage. It is a wonderful presentation, and is certain to far surpass anything of its kind ever before presented in this city.

Miss Louise Close, the director representing the John B. Rogers Producing Company, declares that she is satisfied that the performance will be one of the most successful in her entire career. The scenery and costumes have arrived and proved to be far more elaborate than even the promises of the company anticipated. The scenic settings are especially beautiful.

A capacity house is expected and there is every evidence that there will be a sell-out. Seats are on sale at Warfield's drug store. Those wishing to make reservations should do so immediately as there has been a great demand and it is not certain how long seat will be available.

Among the chorus groups are the following:

WARM RECEPTION ACCORDED GOV. COX

Completes 11,000 Mile Trip Through All But Three Western States

PEOPLE WANT LEAGUE

They Now Grasp its Possibilities—Front Porch "Senatorial Oligarchy" Offensive to Voters He Declares

Dayton, Ohio., Oct. 4.—Governor Cox was given a "warm welcome home" reception last night, upon his returning from his month's Western trip. The Democratic presidential candidate was cheered by several thousand persons as he stepped from his private car, which had carried him more than 11,000 miles through all States west of the Mississippi River, except Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana.

He was met at the station by Mrs. Cox, his sonin-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Mahoney, and many personal friends. The crowd insisted that he talk and followed him to his newspaper office a few blocks away, where the candidate mounted to a ledge of the building and expressed his appreciation for the welcome. He spoke only a few minutes, saying the proprieties of the Sabbath forbade him talking on subjects he had discussed during his trip. He then went to his home at Trail's End, where he expects to rest for a couple of days.

En route here from Kansas City, Mo., where he closed his Western campaign last night, the Governor had an hour's conference with Franklin D. Roosevelt, his running mate, who rode from Terre Haute to Indianapolis with his chief. Mr. Roosevelt then left to continue his second Western trip.

At several cities today Sunday crowds met Governor Cox's train, and with politics barred on the Sabbath, he spoke a few words of greeting and appreciation. At Effingham and Richmond, Ind., he held rear-platform receptions clad in his pajamas and swathed in an overcoat.

A statement issued last night by Governor Cox, reviewing his Western campaign, described it as "a wonderful trip—with just one rainy day."

Declaring that the Western people are "independent," the Governor's statement said in part: "They realized the last month what maintained reactionary propaganda has meant. The thing they resent most is the deliberate withholding of the facts bearing upon present conditions. They have developed a feeling approaching real bitterness against the senatorial oligarchy.

"Following the war, with all of its disturbing elements, there is no question but what there was a feeling that a turn in the road was desirable and a political change was generally discussed. The voters, however, are realizing in West that the political change which they had in mind meant the reintrenchment of the same gang that Roosevelt drove out in 1912. The patronizing attitude of the senatorial oligarchy has offended the West and the plan of making the people come to the senatorial front porch had developed into a comedy before we reached the coast.

"In communities, large and small, paid emissaries from Republican headquarters are actually tramping on each other' toes. Apparently every camp follower in America is on the payroll. Evidence of the expenditure of money is so apparent that there is no longer a doubt about the alliance between big business, grasping profiteers and the senatorial oligarchy." Regarding the league of nations issue, Governor Cox's statement said that there was "enthusiastic response and resentment because the opposition was withholding evidence on the issue." "The West understands" the Governor said, "the practical opportunities which the league affords overseas" and why agricultural products prices are falling".

The West resents, Governor Cox declared, the league situation in which Senator Johnson and former President Taft both support Senator Harding.

"In every audience," said the Governor's statement, "the prevalent belief was that Senator Harding was either attempting to maintain a deceitful attitude or he was groping about with such uncertainty himself that public confidence was not promoted."

Wall St. Blast Suspect Taken.

New York, Oct. 4.—Suspected of having some connection with the Wall street bomb plot, Floren Zelenska, 29, was taken in custody by police in Pittsburgh last night, according to word received here by William J. Fynn, chairman of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice.

Zelenska, who is said to have admitted being a member of a radical circle, was overpowered by the police after a terrific struggle. He was found in a room in a Pittsburgh hotel. His suitcase is said to have contained dynamite, percussion caps and a fuse.

On the way to the police station he is alleged to have said to the police:

"See what we did in Wall street. Next time it will be bigger and more terrible. The last was only a strt."

K. C. Plan to Build $5,000,000 Legion War Shrine

Chicago, Oct. 4.—An American Legion war memorial, costing $5,000,000, will be erected in Washington by the Knights of Columbus, according to an announcement of the supreme board of directors here last night.

"The building will be a memorial to our heroic dead, and an inspiration to the living and to future generations," said the announcement.

Title to the building will be vested solely in the American Legion. The building will be maintained from a $1,000,000 endowment fund. The American Legion will have until July 1, 1921, to accept the memorial. Should the American Legion cease to exist, the building will become the property of the United States government.

The board of directors explained the $5,000,000 will constitute the balance of the Knights of Columbus war fund. Approximately $40,000,000 was subscribed to the war fund.

More Than 200 Dead in Ireland As A Result of Guerrilla War

London, Oct. 4.—There is a war on in Ireland. It is a guerrilla warfare not an open warfare, and it is a cold fact that no man there can take political action unless in peril of his life. Too, there is no doubt that reprisals against life have been planned by both sides, and in many instances carried out, and there is no doubt that both sides have deliberately destroyed property belonging to the other side; that this campaign has cost hundreds of lives.

The present situation may be summarized as follows.

British government charges 113 British police assasinated by Sinn Feiners.

Sinn Fein charges 50 Sinn Feiners and other Irishmen murdered by Irish policemen British troops or "black and tan" troops acting as police.

British government charges 1,200 Sinn Fein outrages in Ireland from January 1 to September 8, including 63 courthouses destroyed, 650 barracks destroyed or damages, 408 raids on mails, 36 rails on lighthouses and coast guard stations. Cost to English taxpayers, $70,000 a week.

Sinn Feiners charges 90 Irish towns wrecked by armed forces of the English in the last twelve months more than half since July. Cost to Sinn Fein, $50,000 subscribed in Ireland $10,000,000 subscribed in the United States.

Material damage to Ireland known to be over $10,000,000 in July, but estimated at probably thrice that sum, now, $30,000,000.

"GUNMAN JOE" PLACED ON TRIAL

Third of Trio For Murder and Bank Robbery

ALIBI FOR DEFENSE

Two Others Have Already Been Tried For Killing F. H. Hallowell, Director of Sandy Spring, Md., Bank

Frederick, Md., Oct. 4.—Joe Thomas Penderghast, alias "Gunman Joe," third of the trio arrested in connection with the murder of Francis M. Hallowell, director of the Sandy Spring bank, and the plundering of the institution, will go on trial for his life today.

Like his two confederates, Penderghast will attempt to establish an alibi. The confederates, Clarence J. Adams and John W. Mitchell, have been tried. Their fate is now in the hands of Chief Judge Urner and Associate Judges Worthington and Peter, who ade withholding verdicts until the trial of Penderghast has been completed.

Penderghast will claim he was at the bedside of his mother in a Philadelphia hospital on April 26, when the crime was committed at Sandy Spring.

Verdicts are expected to be made about Wednesday when the trial of Penderghast will be completed, in all probability. Although it has not been established who fired the shot that killed Hallowell, all three men may be hanged if convicted.

State's Attorney Thomas L. Dawson, of Rockville, who, assisted by State's Attorney Aaron Andrews, of this county, conducted the prosecution declared today the alibis of Mitchell and Adams have been shattered and expressed the opinion that a verdict of first degree murder, which carries the death penalty, would be returned.

The criminal records of the three prisoners brought out during the trials, and the escape of Joe Kelly, one of the men arrested in connection with the murder, have led officials to keep an extremely close guard on the jail. During the trial and throughout the night, a heavy guard is on duty at all times.

Today the attitude of all three of the men displayed a high nervous tension. Adams, who is supposedly reserve was protecting his composure last night in his cell and associate Mitchell of being responsible for his trouble with Mitchell shouted:

"Oh, shut up. I've got troubles enough of my own."

The most intense interest has been displayed throughout the trials of Adams and Mitchell, the court room being crowded daily by friends and the slain director. A large number of girls from the local high schools have attended all the sessions.

AMERICAN MOTHERS.

Millions of American mothers had to send their sons to battle in Europe because there was no League of Nations in 1914 to deter Germany and Austria from forcing war with Servia and Russia. If 40 nations had been associated in a league to boycott, and, if that were not enough, to use force against, a nation that should break the world's peace, Germany and Austria would have given attention to efforts at negotiation or arbitration. The World War would not have occured.

Our relations with Austria are slight, and with Servia are much slighter, but the outrage of Austria on Servia lighted a fire that spread across the Atlantic and Americans had to settle a war that began in the Balkans. There was nothing but the mailed fist and the shining sword to settle a quarrel between nations, and if Austria wished to browbeat and disable Servia she felt that, with Germany on her side, she could affor to do it, because there was no League of Nations to prevent war.

And if we remain outside of the League American mothers will have to send their sons to war in a foreign country again. Quarrels will occur, controversies will arise which may not yield to argument; for the League of Nations without the United States will be much less potent than it would be with us. Sooner or later there will be a resort to force by some nation, because the League without the United States did not look formidable enough, and when the trouble was started it would be pretty apt to reach us, as the World War did. American mothers will again be required to give up their sons to end war and bring peace again to the world.

Every American mother should vote next month for the League of Nations. So far as anything human can do it, that will save her son from ever having to go abroad to fight for the world's peace. Instead of imperiling her son, Article X is the only safeguard for him. If we and the other nations, 40 or more in number, will give each other the assurance contained in that article, no nation will violate the peace. The odds against it would be too great. It would be extremely improbable that there would be any hostilities. The mere fact of the League would in all probability deter even the most truculent nation from a breach of the peace. If it did not the commerical boycott would almost certainly make the recalcitrant nation incapable of carrying on the war. But if more than that were needed, the nation nearest the disturber of the peace would be called to suppress it. Unless the trouble were in the Western Hemisphere, the United States would not be one of the neighboring nations, and, in any event, Congress would decide whether to act on the recommendation of the Council of the League in which Council the United States would have one representative who could block any action adverse to our interests because the Council has to be unanimous.

Thus every American mother will secure her own peace of mind and the safety of her son, and the assurance that he will not be called on to fight, by securing a Democratic victory, which will put the United States into the League.

Says 'Drys' Spent Thousands To Influence Conventions

New York, Oct. 4.—T. Leigh Colvin prohibition candidate for vice president, in an address at the west side Methodist Episcopal Church here last night, asserted that both the leading political parties have "soft-pedaled" the questions at issue in the present campaign for fear of "lost patronage." He declared both parties are afraid of alienating the "wet" vote in doubtful States.

"If both parties would have prohibition planks in their platforms," Mr. Colvin said, "the whole thing would have been over. We spent thousands of dollars in trying to get the two parties to add a prohibition plank; and in addition millions of petitions—and I say this literally—were sent to the party leaders at San Francisco and Chicago.'

Both parties, he charged, selected "the wettest men in their respective parties.'

SPORTS

The large crowd that journeyed to the Shipyard field Sunday to witness the football game between the Virginia Athletic Club and Fort Washington, Md., teams were well repaid for the time thus spent. The contest was exciting from start to finish and brilliant plays were made by both teams. The Virginias won by a 41 to 6 score.

The Virginias played a great game and worked many trick plays that fooled their heavy opponents and the forward passes were used to advantage and helped to run up the big score. Every lad worked hard to win and they did not allow the many hard knocks received to interfere with their good work, but kept pegging away until the end of the game. The forward pass from Nugent to Duncan was a pretty play and resulted in a touchdown.

The following named are the officals of the game:

Carl Mueller, referee; Carl Dreifus, umpire; Leo Pohl, timekeeper, F. Pettit, head linesman.

Your Credit---How About It?

There Are Three Ways In Which Credit May Be Secured--- By the Deposit of Collateral, by Notes Endorsed by People of Means and on the Honor of the Person Who Desires Credit

Credit is one of the biggest factors in promoting success in the commercial and manufacturing world as well as in private life. To the merchant—or manufacturer—who wishes to expand, credit is of far more importance than capital. They realize its worth and are extremely careful in seeing that nothing should impair same. In the case of individuals, credit is of equal importance to them tho it may not be used as often or to the extent that it is used by those who are in business. A man, or woman, who will permit outstanding accounts to accumulate and go for an indefinite period without paying same, is on the rapid road to bankruptcy. Perhaps not in the same way that a business man would be who did not pay his obligations, but the withdrawal of credit is bound to follow and means the same to an individual who does not pay his bills as bankruptcy does to the business man.

CREDIT---When You Desire Same, How Do You Secure It? Is Your Word Good, Must You Give Security or Have Some One Vouch For You Before This Desired Accommodation May Be Secured?

It is our purpose only to deal with that class of credit that is extended by man to man simply upon honor and because of the faith of one in the other. Where credit is obtained, by reason of security of some description being given, the obligation is usually met and if it is not, the one who extends the credit does not lose by reason of the security given for the purpose of obtaining the accommodation.

A debt of honor should never be allowed to bring dishonor. In the days of old, men were willing to lay down their lives if need be, rather than permit dishonor to come by reason of their failure to make good debts of this character.

When a merchant extends credit to an individual upon solely the agreement to pay, he should take no more chance than when he is dealing with the person of resource and who is thus "good" as the saying is. He should be as fully protected by the honor of his debtor as he is by the means of the other. The persons who recognize the importance of meeting their obligations and who do not let them go unpaid, have a reputation for honesty and the payment of bills that is an asset of great worth. The promptness with which they meet their obligations becomes a matter of record which grows stronger and stronger day by day.

Those who willfully resist the efforts which their creditors make to collect their accounts also gain a reputation that grows as rapidly, if not more so, than does that of those who are prompt payers.

In this city, as in the majority of all other progressive cities, there is a credit association and which is made up of the business men of the city. This organization is not a menace to any person who is honest. Its influence is directed against those who would go from store to store, obtaining all the goods which they can secure upon their word to pay and with no intentions of paying for some.

In the office of the association, it might be said is an honor roll and a dishonor roll. On the honor roll will be found the names of those who ask for credit and incidentally secure same by reason of their record for honesty. On the roll of dishonor, will be found the names of those who do not meet their obligations. Great care is used in investigating carefully before names are entered upon this roll. It must be proven conclusively that they persist in refusing to pay for their purchases before they are classed among those who are not worthy of credit.

A debt of honor, whether it is for a pound of beef steak, a suit of clothes, a furniture purchase, or for articles, or services, of any description should not be treated lightly. It should be recognized as a just claim and worthy of prompt attention in every case if one's credit is to be maintained.

It Is Your Duty to

Pay Your Bills

Make it a point to pay promptly at the agreed time. You and your creditor will both be pleased and will prosper financially.

Credit Is Not a Difficult Thing to Secure—It Can Also Be Easily Lost. Give Heed to the Manner In Which You Use It and You'll Continue to Enjoy Its Benefits

VIRGINIA NEWS

Richmond—More than 12,000 women registered in this city.

Danville—Halifax County registered 560 white women and fifty colored up to the time of closing the State offices. South Boston contributed fourteen.

Newport News—When the new city manager form of government went into operation, it was generally believed here that several changes would be made in city departments immediately; but City Manager L. G. Thom Saturday, after a day in office, stated no changes will be made until he has had time to thoroughly familiarize himself with city affairs.

Lexington—Speaking to an audience of students and townspeople, which filled to capacity the Robert E. Lee Memorial Church of Washington and Lee University, Saturday morning, Frank A. Vanderlip, New York financier, urged the creation of new social, economic and financial standards for America, and stated that this was the great opportunity for the young men of today.

Fredericksburg—B. T. Hall, of Spotsylvania County, noticing a large number of crows fighting a large bird on his farm Saturday, procured a shotgun. He recognized the large bird as being a gray eagle, which he killed. It measured seven feet from tip to tip of wings.

Winchester—The town council of Charles Town, historic seat of Jefferson County, W. Va., famed as the place where John Brown was tried, condemned and hanged, has offered $50 as a prize to the person who will submit the most acceptable new name for the town. The similarity of Charles Town and Charleston has resulted in all sorts of confusions, and merchants, manufacturers, farmers and people generally of Charles Town have come to the conclusion that the name of the town should be changed.

Winchester—Apples are reported to be lying shoetop deep on the ground in many of the orchards of Page County, there being apparently no market for them. Growers said they could not afford to buy barrels at $1.35 and pack the fruit at a profit. Comparatively few commercial apples, however, are grown in Page County.

Richmond—The engagement has just been announced of Miss Mary Stafford Munford, of this city, to Lieut. Comdr. Hiester Hoogewerff, U. S. N., who was formerly in the charge of the recruiting station here now an instructor in the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Miss Munford is a daughter of Mrs. Beverly B. Munford, widow of a distinguished Virginia lawyer, and a pioneer in the feminist movement in this state.

Newport News — Approximately 1,200 soldiers in the air service from three camps recently closed by the government are to be ordered to Langley Field, it is announced. It is stated that a majority of the detachment will reach the field here within the next fortnight.

Richmond — The Virginia State Fair opened today with a big crowd in attendance.

Freeling—The Kelley brothers, Harkins and William, of Dickenson County, who killed Tilden Moore in an altercation at Shelby Gap, Ky., have been tried jointly for the offense at Pikeville and given lifetime terms in the penitentiary. William the younger of the brothers, is an allegtd deserter from Camp Lee in 1918.

Norfolk—A verdict of voluntary manslaughter, with a sentence of two years in the penitentiary was returned by the jury in the case of Charles H. Groety, charged with the murder of A. R. Jackson, in the corporation court yesterday morning.

PLEASED SON AND IS ASTONISHED

Says She Can Never Praise Tanlac Enough For Good It Has Done Her

"I am just delighted with Tanlac for the wonderful good it has done me," said Mrs. Mary Barnhardt, 537 Jervis street, Toledo, Ohio.

"For ten years I had suffered from stomach trouble and rheumatism. I had tried many different medicines during this time, but had never found anything to give me more than passing relief until I started taking Tanlac. I kept getting worse and for the past year had become so badly run-down and weak I could barely get around. I had to confine myself to the lightest diets, but even these would sour and upset my stomach. I was in pain nearly all the time from rheumatism in my arms, shoulders and hands, and my fingers became so badly drawn and twisted I could hardly use my hands. I was extremely nervous and could get but little sleep, sometimes lying awake all night long unable to sleep a wink. I would insist on trying to do my housework. But every time I exerted myself I was confined to my bed for two or three days afterwards.

"I was just on the point of giving up entirely when my son brought home a bottle of Tanlac and insisted on my trying it, as he said a man he worked with had taken it and spoke so highly of it he believed it would do me good. Well, sir, in a short while I commenced improving, continuing to do so day by day until today I am a well woman. I have a splendid appetite, everything I eat, even bananas, something I hadn't been able to eat in fifteen years, agrees with me perfectly, and the rheumatism has left me entirely. My nerves are in fine condition, I sleep well and can do my housework with the greatest ease. Tanlac surely made life worth something to me again and I will never get through praising it."

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield, jr., and Gibson's Drug Store.

MOVIES

RICHMOND—"The Idol Dancer."

The "Idol Dancer" at the Richmond Theater tonight is the film that D. W. Griffith and his players were working on when the entire company was blown to sea in a disabled yacht and reported missing for several days by the entire press of the world. You no doubt saw the report in the newspapers.

It is the most vivid and thrilling drama of the strange life and stranger conglomeration of whites and natives of the South Sea Isles ever screened.

Clarine Seymour plays Mary, "The Idol Dancer" one of the screen's most unque characterizations.

Richard Barthelmess plays the beach comber. You'll rememer his magnificent acting in "Broken Blossoms." The cast includes: Clarine Seymour, Richard Barthelmess, George McQuarrie and Creighton Hale. When Mr. Griffith presented "Tht Idol Dancer" at its trial performance in a Mount Vernon Theater, New York, the audience was by turns gripped in tense silence, rocked by laughter and stirred to wild excitement by the infinite variety of its emotional appeal.

The South Sea island scenic beauties and native life revealed are beautiful and interesting.

INGOMAR—Mary Miles Minter.

Mary Miles Minter's second Realart picture, following "Anne of Green Gables," which will be shown at the Ingomar Theatre tonight, is a picturization of Grace Miller White's universally read story, "Judy of Rogues' Harbor," a combinatioin of one of the ablest of fiction writers with one of the daintiest of Filmdom's leading stars. Miss Minter is supported by a cast of celebrated actors and directed by one who is distinguished for his art and attention to detail. Critics consider "Judy of Rogues' Harbor" a film drama masterpiece.

Here's Dodson's guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate so let them eat anything after wards.

START OF RED COLLAPSE SEEN

State Department officials yesterday welcomed reports of anti-Bolshevik uprisings among the peasants and workers in Soviet Russia.

Officials claimed to see in these reports first signs of a general move to overthrow the Lenine-Trotsky government, a development they have been predicting for more than a year.

An indication that a general revolt was brewing was contained, officials pointed out, in recent dispatches telling of the uprisings of peasants at Petrograd, Novgorod and Omsk.

At the same time that they reiterated their predictions of the collapse of the Soviet power, officials took care to qualify the forecast. They found themselves unable to predict when the revolt would be success ful, stating that Lenine might be able to hang on for many months yet.

Norfolk—There may be a crew of bold "blackhanders" cruising around Hampton Roads in a motor boat and then again there may not be. The captain of the Milazzo, an Italian steamer, has twice wirelessed into the night that the blackhanders were shooting at him and his crew, but police and naval men who responded have not been able to find any one. Police can't say positively that the blackhand hasn't a motorboat. But they do say that the Milazzo has intoxicants on board and they are working on the theory that it wouldn't be a difficult task to fill a motor boat with thirsty Americans.

Story Of A Bashful Man And Demure Maiden

Commences In Southern Virginia Ends In Alexandria---A Realistic Romance

I was just thinking: said uncle Bill, to Harry as he was enjoying his after dinner smoke, of a matter of vital importance and right here I am going to give you a timely pointer. I think it would be the sensible thing for you t odo, to take out for Hettie's benefit in the morning a life insurance policy for about $5000 in a good company and I have one in mind. The Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa. It has strong assets and a fine reputation for promptness and fair dealing. I believe it to be the only company represented in this city whose policy obligations are secured in full by deposits of interest bearing securities with the state government. Represented here by Mr. Glenn L. Justice a most agreeable gentleman and a very fair minded man whom you will be glad to meet. And did you ever stop t othink, my boy, that a policy in a good company like this actually creates an estate for you the moment the first premium is paid for the amount of your policy. The following morning Mr. Glenn L. Justice wrote Harry a policy for $5000 in the Equitable Life, and I see you make preten tions to dress well yourself, ventured uncle Bill to Harry; I always admired the man who had the pride to dress in good taste and who wears good clothes I have always maintained that a man feels more respectable when well dressed. Now of course you will want to visit our representative men's clothing and men's out-fitting establishment by name—Downham and Ridgely where I have dealt for many years, a house that I can recommend with good graces and one where the male sex can get dressed up from head to foot carrying such high grade ready to wear brands of clothing as the Hart, Schaffner and Marx and the Fashion Park line of clothes, Mallory hats and the best of everything in hosiery, furnishings, haberdashery, hats and caps. And you will make no mistake my boy if you start right in and line up with Downham and Ridgely, the leaders in our town. Robly Simpson is a popular salesman.

Emerging from the post office where she had just purchased a book of stamps from Emmett Finks, Hettie inquired for a stationery store. Then I'll direct you to Dyson's Book and Stationery Store, replied uncle Bill the principal one here and a good place to depend on for any item in this line, carrying everything in books stationery, magazines, periodicals, school and office supplies and the sundry allied lines belonging to a first class book store like this one, where everything is reasonably priced After the bride had procured some dainty stationery, magazines and some pretty pictures for her new home and Harry a tennis set. The trio departed for home. Uncle Bill whispered to Harry, perhaps some day you will be coming here for school books, Hetty blushed perceptably.

If not today? another day, said uncle Bill, as he paused in front of Katz popular retail shoe emporium: you will need shoes and you might as well come in and get acquainted now. Oh yes; interjected the bride I really wish to purchase a pair of house slippers now. There they found select and dependable lines of footwear including the most standard shoes for hard service, as well as the niftiest and chic lasts for strictly social uses, for men, women and children. Mr. Katz name has become symonymous with the word shoes, all over this neck of woods put in uncle Bill, also a name for honest value in high grade merchandise which has won for this shoe house the good will and confidence of a large acquaintance and following. The young couple are his newest customers.

Seated at the breakfast table the first morning under their own roof both uncle Bill and Harry were unstinted in their praise of the delicious rolls that were being served, which comment brought perceptable joy to the bride. Why, said she, one of my new acquaintances here advised me to use only "Baker's Pride Flour" saying that the most particular wives of Alexandria used it and that it made such palatable and wholesome bread, and just the daintiest cake pies and pastries adding she was delighted with "Baker's Pride Flour" here uncle broke in saying that it was made right here in town by Forbes Bros., and I hear they are taxed to keep up with orders so rapidly has this flour become on the market. Forbes Bros. are also makers of Mount Vernon Corn Meal feed stuffs, bran, and are live dealers in hay, grain, etc., and do yearly an active business.

Having unpacked the trunk, Hettie advised Harry that he would need to have his suits pressed at once and that she herself needed the immediate services of a reliable cleaner and presser—here uncle Bill broke in saying its The Alexandria Pressing Company you want to patronize, who do everything in the lines cleaning, dyeing and pressing and always in the highest art of the profession, strictly reliable, prompt and painstaking under the live wire management of Mr. J. W. Lambert whose business dealings everybody likes. With modern facilities and a force of adept workment at this plant any garment or fabric is cleansed and dyed in any color or hue desired and made like new many times, said uncle Bill, adding that a service like the Alexandria gives is a great saving and affords a source of economy that means much to the economical housewife.

For your reception next week of course you will want some choice cut flowers and pot plants. This is highly proper and always in good taste, ventured uncle Bill. How thoughtful, assented the bride. I was going to ask about this. Flowers are indispensable of course adding that floral decorations always bespeak culture refinement and dignity, where can I secure them? Your cut flowers and pot plants we will get from The Ponnet Floral Company replied uncle Bill. Here one can get for any occasion any day the choicest and most exquisite cut flowers of the season for wedding receptions, funerals, banquets or that best girl, cut fresh daily from the gardens and green houses, and you will find the Ponnet Floral Company with Mrs. Powers in charge pleasant, prompt and perfectly trustworthy in filling your orders.

Begin Right Now to Conquer Your Rheumatism
If you are going to again rely upon the liniment bottle to try to rub your Rheumatism away, you will be doomed again to nothing but disappointment. A disease that can cause so much pain and suffering is not on the surface of the skin, and cannot be rubbed away.
Many forms of Rheumatism are caused by a tiny disease germ in the blood, and in such cases the only logical treatment is to search out and remove these germs from the blood.
For this purpose there is no more satisfactory remedy than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that has been in use for more than fifty years, and has given such general satisfaction for Rheumatism.
Begin taking S.S.S. today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice, without charge. Address Chief Medical Director, 160 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.
